A Turning Point in Senior Living!

April 2019

WICKED GOOD!
 That's one way to describe an honor from Wicked Local, the online community news site. Its readers gave us a 2018 "Wicked Local Favorites" award for Best Assisted Living facility.

FARM TO TABLE: As we welcome spring, we anxiously await the fruits of our Farm to Table seedling program, led by associate directors Cheryl Rank and Kris Coppola. If all “grows” well, the seedlings we planted in March will appear this summer as green herbs and colorful vegetables on our plates. (Pictured, left to right: Veronique Turner, Susan Abrahamsen, Janice Alimenti, Helen Precourt, Janet Ploetz, and Cheryl Rank.)

Patriots’ Day falls on April 15 this year in Massachusetts and Maine. The Bay State marks the day with dawn reenactments of the April 19, 1775, Revolutionary War battles of Concord and Lexington. Those are followed by the 123rd running of the Boston Marathon. While the first runners cross the finish line, you can watch the World Champion Boston Red Sox host the Baltimore Orioles. The Fenway game will be shown on the big screen in O’Connor Town Common at 11:00 AM. Because Patriots’ Day falls on Tax Day, the tax deadline for residents of Massachusetts and Maine is April 17.
