

Although a non-sectarian community, New Horizons has strong historical and current connections to the Catholic Church. Once home to Madonna Hall School for Girls, a boarding school run by the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, the site was acquired by Cummings Foundation in 1994 to establish a senior living community. The Sisters remained — helping to oversee and serve the on-site chapel — and they live in a convent on the campus.

This flipbook contains photos from the October 2, 2025, visit of Archbishop Richard Henning. The final photo is from a 2015 Mass by Cardinal Sean O'Malley, then the leader of the Boston Archdiocese.

New Horizons

